

ENVIROMENTAL POLICY 2023

For ENGIE Energía Perú, respect for the planet and the preservation of resources are at the center of its environmental policy, with the objective of achieving recognized environmental performance in the market and in general, in all their stakeholders. Our efforts are aligned with the purpose of the ENGIE group on the transition to a carbon neutral economy and the positive impact on the planet.

We are committed to continuously identify, evaluate and control environmental aspects and impacts to protect the environment and prevent possible environmental contamination caused by emissions, effluents, solid waste and other environmental aspects resulting from our activities.

In order to achieve this, we define roles, responsibilities and authority to implement this policy and apply the following principles and commitments:

- Comply with applicable environmental regulation, ENGIE group rules, and other agreements to which the company enters, working constructively with appropriate government stakeholders regarding environmental compliance concerns.
- Evaluate and implement opportunities for improvement and energy efficiency solutions in its plants and projects, as well as promoting the use of materials and technologies that allow, where possible, the reduction of greenhouse gases.
- Use water, fuel, energy and others more efficiently and prioritizing reuse, recycling and recovery in waste management, generally considering a circular economy approach.
- Contribute to the preservation of natural environments by integrating biodiversity into their environmental management strategies, in compliance with applicable regulations.
- Promote a culture of proactive and committed environmental management in the organization; train our employees on the environmental aspects and impacts associated with their activities and responsibilities.
- Establish measurable environmental objectives and action plans to promote continuous improvement.
- Demand optimal environmental performance from suppliers and contractors in accordance with company policies.
- Raise awareness among our internal and external stakeholders by communicating this policy within the organization, keeping it available to interested parties and reporting on our environmental performance honestly and openly.

The top management of the company will be in charge of following up and monitoring this policy and it will be updated periodically when required.
